After Strong Protests

Some Compromise Seen In Bond Money Switch

Two community groups irritated over a city staff recommendation to delete $121,500 in recreation bond funds scheduled for projects at Ocean Beach Park wrangled out a compromise solution from the city Park and Recreation Board Wednesday.

Board members, after hearing strong protests from the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce and Ocean Beach Town Council, voted to delete the funds from the 1972-73 capital improvement program of the city because they are needed for other projects. In a portion of its motion, however, the park board indicated its "concern over the reported lack of adequate parking in Ocean Beach" and asked for a staff report.

The board action gave Ocean Beach residents some assurance that the money will be spent in Ocean Beach, even if not for the projects planned.

The controversy developed after city staff recommended that the funds be used for projects in other areas of the city since they were not needed at Ocean Beach. The funds, designated for a life-guard tower, restrooms, and other construction at the foot of Santa Monica Street, cannot be used until more sand is added to the present beach.

City Recreation Director Pauline des Granges told the board in a memo that the funds had tentatively been allocated in 1963 when it was expected that additional beach would be created. With the cancellation of a possible beach project at Sunset Cliffs, there is no immediate prospect for adding more sand at Ocean Beach, according to Miss des Granges.

Miss des Granges said since the anticipated facilities could not be constructed that the money should be used elsewhere. Beach citizens protested when they learned of the diversion of the funds.

Tom Ham, speaking for the chamber of commerce, said the city should study the possibility of adding additional parking at Ocean Beach with the money.

"We are choking the business community of Ocean Beach by not providing ample parking at the beach," said Ham. He also suggested that the funds be used for a study of beach erosion at Ocean Beach.

Ham said that new parking areas are urgently needed. He said possibly any new parking could be metered parking.

Mrs. Fran Hanks, executive director of the Ocean Beach Town Council, read a letter from the council asking that the funds be retained until further planning on the beach area in question is completed.

The letter, from Ned Titlow, council president, said that the community "would be very unhappy if the funds are not available to complete the full beach frontage park."

Development of the middle section of the park, which is the area in question, is temporarily stalled over a controversy on a beach road. The town council asked that the funds not be reallocated until that question is settled.

Douglas Giddings, park and recreation board chairman, said he was concerned over the availability of funds in 1972-73. Giddings said that increased costs in general may mean that many projects throughout the city, including the one in Ocean Beach, may not have funds by that fiscal year.

Board member Norman Seltzer said he did not feel it was "fair to take money allocated for the use and benefit of a particular area and throw it into the general pot." Seltzer said the Ocean Beach Park funds in question should remain in the capital improvement program until 1972-73 or until the project is deemed not feasible.

Robert Bacon, also a board member, said the board had a "moral commitment to voters to maintain funds originally in the 1966 recreation bond issue for the areas then indicated."

Meno Wilhelms, assistant city manager, said the recommendation to delete the funds was made because rapidly-rising land costs make it necessary to acquire park land in many areas of the city as soon as possible. Wilhelms also told the board that the funds are needed because of high building costs and unprojected inflationary costs in the $47 million bond issue approved in 1966.

Wilhelms, in response to a question from Tom Ham, said that the funds had not been taken from Ocean Beach "to be revengeful" because local residents fought against beach construction at Sunset Cliffs.

"We don't operate this way in city government in San Diego," said Wilhelms.

Wilhelms said that to leave the Ocean Beach funds allocated for the beach would mean redesigning of nine buildings in the city for which the funds would have been diverted. It would have also held up approval of the 1968-69 capital improvement program.

City personnel said that deletion of the funds does not necessarily mean that the project cannot be rescheduled later if beach area is added.

Feds Receive Statement Of Bay Impact

The economic impact of Mission Bay Park on the city of San Diego is described in new statistics compiled by the Mission Bay Lessees Association.

The statistics were requested by the City Property Department which, in turn, received a request from the commanding general of the Army Corps of Engineers.

The corps is the organization originally responsible for the dredging of the bay for park land. Federal government officials will use the statistics to judge the importance of the park project.

According to MBLA spokesmen, the total number of Mission Bay employees exceeds 1886 in peak seasonal periods. The employee figure levels off a 1,100 persons in the winter.

The total annual payroll comes close to $6 million according to MBLA spokesmen. That figure does include some city employees. In the 1968 tax year the lessees will pay a combined tax of $400,909. During the same year they will pay $680,000 in rent.

The directors of the Mission Bay Lessees Association met Friday for their regular meeting in the Bahia Hotel. Spokesmen say that the association enjoys almost 100 per cent membership. The only concern not belonging is the De Anza Trailer Harbor. The association gets one quarter of one per cent of the annual gross income and the City of San Diego matches that amount.

Often Confused The Mission Bay Lessees do advertising and promotion for the bay area and are often confused with the Mission Bay Associates. The Mission Bay Associates are responsible for the preparation of aquatic events. The lessees handle advertising in newspapers and on television.

$66,000 of the lessee's $80,000 budget goes for advertising and promotion. The rest goes into the operation of the Mission Bay Information Center near Interstate Five.

Law Student Hopes To Close Barnes Door

Larry L. Royse, a former Stanford University student body president who will graduate from the University of San Diego law school in June, will oppose Barnes in the 7th assembly district.

A 29-year old attorney-to-be has qualified for the June 4 primary ballot as a Republican opponent for Assemblyman E. Richard Barnes.

Royse will be the first Republican opposition Barnes has had since first elected. "Barnes is an ineffective legislator," said Royse. "He simply does not understand the problems which face us today and consequently, he is incapable of offering any solutions."

"Barnes and many of the ultra-conservatives dabble in side issues while the parade of taxes and big government marches on. Clearly their philosophy of government has proved incapable of meeting the problem. A new, constructive philosophy is needed."

Royse described his philosophy as one of "constructive and enlightened conservatism" with a "positive approach to problems, not a negative one as is the approach of many ultra-conservatives."

Royse said the world situation, the war, inflation, high interest rates, the gold crisis, and increasing taxes call for "new and imaginative ideas and concepts."

Royse, who is leasing agent for the Le Rondelet Apartments in Point Loma, is an enlisted man in the U. S. Air Force reserve. He attended public schools in Oklahoma and Arizona. While at Stanford he majored in political science and history.

Oops!

Rug-Pull Cited By Titlow

Ocean Beach Town Council president Ned Titlow said Friday that he was "disappointed to say the least" at Park and Recreation Board action on funds for Ocean Beach Park.

"The board action really wasn't what we wanted," said Titlow. He said the board's action to study parking in Ocean Beach is important, but that the primary goal of the town council is completion of Ocean Beach Park.

Park board members deleted $121,500 from the park project Wednesday because the funds were needed for other city projects.

"Apparently the board had no alternative but to approve the program without the funds for Ocean Beach," said Titlow.

"They are taking funds from Ocean Beach to make up for shortages in other projects in the city. We understand that some estimates have been off by as much as 30 per cent," said Titlow. "The Ocean Beach park funds seemed to be surplus, so they took it from there."

"We will follow through on this at City Council hearing," said Titlow. "It doesn't seem fair to take the money from us before the project is finished."

"We've waited many years for these funds, then when we finally get them they pull the rug from under us."

Students Told Where To Get 1-A Counseling

By JOHN E. WIRGES
Sentinel Staff Reporter

A pair of Clairemont High School teachers were among those who handed out draft leaflets at Mission Bay High School Friday morning before classes. A second group distributed the handbills to La Jolla High School students on Thursday morning.

According to school officials, the distribution caused no disruption of school activities, no congestion and no disorders.

"We were aware of the distribution and were prepared to take action, if it were warranted," said Edward Yates, principal of Mission Bay High School. "According to the law, as we know it, there were no violations and we had no cause to intervene."

Clairemont history teachers H. Gerald Adcock and J. Gladden Boaz helped distribute the leaflets at Mission Bay High School.

"First of all, I'd like to make it clear this is not anti-draft material," said Adcock. "It's a list of legal alternatives to the draft."

"We are not representing any group," said Boaz. "We are just individuals who believe strongly in the right to dissent. We feel there are many young men who do not know all the alternatives to the draft."

"We are breaking no law," said Adcock. "It is not against the law for a teacher or anybody else to distribute literature on a public sidewalk."

Within The Law

"We are not communists or communist sympathizers," said Adcock. "We believe in the law and live by the law. We believe our country has need for reforms but that change should come from within the law."

Neither Boaz nor Adcock claimed to be working as members of any stop-the-draft group. "We speak as individuals," said Boaz. "I am a pacifist. I have always been a pacifist, but I speak for myself only."

Boaz was a conscientious objector during World War II. He states he has always supported the causes he believes in, popular or not.

Boaz is a long-time member of NAACP, the United Nations Association and the American Civil Liberties Union.

Adcock served in the Navy during the Korean War. "I am a pacifist now," he said.

Graduate Student

One other member of the group identified himself. Don Greenberg, 24, a graduate student at UCSD, said the group will attempt to distribute the leaflets to all San Diego high schools. He indicated that Madison, Clairemont, Kearny and Point Loma High Schools will be visited in the near future.

"I speak for myself," he said. "I am a pacifist and I have applied for classification as a conscientious objector. Others can speak for themselves."

Clairemont High School PTA president Mrs. James Greenwald takes a different view.

"The Clairemont High School PTA Executive Board has called a special meeting to discuss current controversial practices involving our students," she said.

Dailard Knows

Dr. Ralph C. Dailard, Superintendent of San Diego City Schools, said his office was aware of the leaflet distribution.

"We are making a full investigation," he said.

The leaflet distributed is reproduced here, in its entirety.

YOU AND THE DRAFT

You have an obligation to your country. But HOW you fulfill that obligation is something which only you can decide. When you reach age 18 you must by law register with the Selective Service system.

But, not everyone HAS to become a member of the military forces. Everyone has to live with himself. You must live with yourself as a human being. What should you do? When you register you have one of several legal choices: 1. You can volunteer for the armed forces immediately. 2. You can apply for all available deferments (e.g. student, hardship), realizing that when your deferments run

NOT SHOT FROM GUNS

Information Triggered By Phone Number

By ROBERT HARVEY
Sentinel City Editor

"Oh, are they using my number now?"

Sandy Turner had picked up her phone, only to hear a newspaper reporter ask for her name, business and knowledge of draft-resistance (or draft-alternative) material handed out near school yards.

In a half hour Mrs. Turner answered a number of questions from her viewpoint as a bona fide draft counselor employed by American Friends Service Committee.

But first she explained her seeming surprise with being interrogated about an eight-and-a-half-by-eleven draft resistance leaflet.

"My number is always being used by other groups," Mrs. Turner said. She named some of the groups who give out her home phone number—The American Civil Liberties Union, Council of Churches, San Diego State students, University of California students.

Mrs. Turner's number appears on each of the leaflets handed out to students of La Jolla High and Mission Bay High so far.

She said she's never said "no" when asked for the use of her number by various groups, "... so now they don't even ask me any more," she explained.

Crank Callers

Mrs. Turner said she gets crank calls from people who think they should bawl her out for advising young men to avoid the draft.

"We are not anti-draft, and I wish you wouldn't use the term," the woman exclaimed, "we give out important information about the draft—in a way that a boy can't get in school or from his draft board."

She noted that schools have "career days" when service recruiters can come on campus and preach the virtues of enlisting, but, she claims, "peace" recruiters aren't allowed to tell students the advantages of conscientious objection to armed force.

Mrs. Turner, a Quaker, states she is employed by American Friends Central Committee for Conscientious Objectors, headquartered in Philadelphia with a state office in San Francisco.

She said the organization trained her to be a draft counselor, and her background includes a degree in intergroup relations. She declined to say from which college she took the degree.

Mrs. Turner said the youths who approach her for counseling already possess strong feelings against killing and war. Since they want to escape service anyway, none gain the feeling from her counseling that enlisting in a service or being drafted might be a proper course, she said.

When asked what men should do when their country is attacked, Mrs. Turner answered that they should not fight.

"Understanding and communication should solve the problems, and we should not resort to killing," she said.

What about Pearl Harbor? Were American men wrong to fight the Japanese? Mrs. Turner said yes, it was wrong to fight the Japanese.

Home Meetings Though Mrs. Turner doesn't wish to give out her address, she said her home is used for meetings in which conscientious objection is the central theme.

These meetings are led by Richard McKenna, a La Jolla cleric with a PhD from Union Theological Seminary.

The number used by the ACLU, Council of Churches and leafleteers in favor of conscientious objection to armed service is: 232-8866, Mrs. Turner's private phone.

"I don't mind answering your questions," she commented, "in fact I've counseled more than a hundred boys in the last year or so."

Some young men have found the legal alternatives listed above unsatisfying. They are acting outside the law by doing such things as:

1. Failing to register.
2. Returning their draft cards.
3. Refusing induction.
4. Advocating non-cooperation.

5. Emigrating to Canada. Our governments condemn such extralegal activity and hence imposes the heavy penalties of up to five years imprisonment and/or $10,000 fine for such infractions.

If you would like to discuss any of the above, please feel free to call 232-8866, or talk with one of the persons handing out this literature.

At Plaza

Unimart Proposal Dropped

The attorney for a proposed Unimart store development north of the Pacific Plaza Shopping Center said Friday that plans for the store have been dropped.

Ross Sharp, attorney for Pacific Coast Properties, said he has been instructed by PCP president Ed Ellis to withdraw all applications for rezoning and alley closings for the project. Notices for new rezoning hearings on the matter had been mailed out from the city this week.

An earlier rezoning proposal for a 109,000 square foot store was turned down by the City Council late last year. The proposal was rejected primarily because of inadequate parking.

New hearings were held at which Pacific Coast Properties asked permission to have new hearings to submit a new proposal with adequate parking. That request was granted and new plans were recently filed with the city Planning Department.

The company had asked that the entire Pacific Plaza Shopping Center and acreage formerly occupied by the Brown Military Academy be rezoned to C-1A. The new proposal, which was withdrawn Friday, would have reduced the original store size and added parking.

Happenings

In Politics and Government

By DAVID LEWIS

When you get to be pretty important in this world they measure up just how successful you were by counting the number of "whereases" in resolutions that have been passed saying you're a good guy.

By all standards, T. M. Hegglund, the county's retiring chief administrative officer, hit the top. County Supervisors thought they had done a good job for "Heg" when they put seven in their resolution. But that was topped in fast order by the California Assembly that had one with 12 and the state Senate that had a similar one.

T. M. HEGGLUND

Finally Councilman Allen Hitch came along with one from the city at last Wednesday night's retirement party that had 17. Said Hitch in making the presentation, "This resolution is signed by every member of the City Council including the minority of us who are not running for office."

It was appropriate that he should say so. With five city councilmen planning to defect from the council, the whole matter seems to be something people can't resist talking about.

Bill Cravens, who was emcee for the Hegglund party, started things off saying that he worked for the Board of Supervisors "and in our office we don't talk about retirement." Two of the five councilmen running — Jack Walsh and Harry Scheide — are seeking supervisor posts and they were both there for the party.

Supervisor Bob Dent who is facing opposition from Scheide, quipped that he wanted to give one of his campaign speeches that night — "How To Stop The City From Taking Over."

Hegglund leaves his post April 1 and will be replaced by Fred Morey. Hegglund has been in county government 32 years, 19 of them as San Diego County's top employee. Morey has been Hegglund's assistant for the past 13 years.

Putting in a pitch for his present employers — the supervisors, Hegglund said there have been only 10 faces on the board since he went to work for the county. "And boy," said Hegglund, "that's great for an administrator."

UPCOMING—University of California Chancellor John S. Galbraith will talk to the San Diego North Shores Republican League Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Torrey Pines Inn on the controversy surrounding the purchase of La Jolla Farms land by UCSD. The program is open to the public.

THE SENATE RACE — Sen. Thomas Kuchel and challenger Max Rafferty have ended up on opposite sides of the fence over a national riot squad.

Kuchel has attacked the idea, made by Rafferty, as "an abridgement of the American right to self-government and a threat to the principle of local control." Rafferty said a federal group should be formed that could be sent in to bring order in riot areas.

Meanwhile, Rafferty has been endorsed by the ultra-conservative Young Americans for Freedom (they call themselves the state's largest conservative youth organization.) YAF was notably active during the 1964 Goldwater campaign, but died off for all practical purposes after that, although there was a slight revival for the Reagan campaign.

The group's endorsement calls for "total and unflinching support of every phase of the Rafferty campaign."

3,000 Cases

Report On Molesting Requested

Councilman Jack Walsh has asked for a report from the city manager on what steps the city is taking to prevent an estimated 3,000 reported child molestation cases in the city each year.

"The magnitude of these incidents and the very serious complications and psychological effect on our young warrant at least as great an effort of prevention and special handling as do vice activities," said Walsh. The councilman said he had received several calls recently from concerned parents asking what preventive and protective measures the city provides to safeguard children walking home from school.

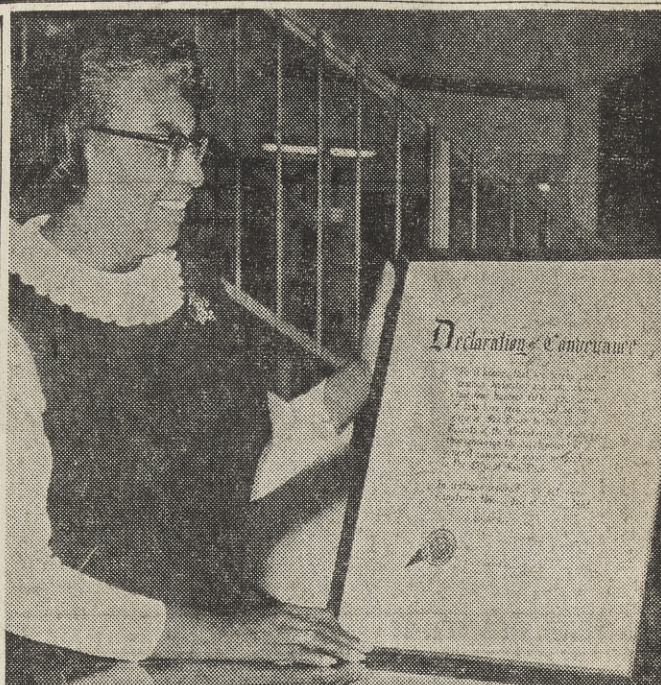

Walsh said recent reports from the county grand jury also "express a concern for this menace." He said the "block parent plan" utilized in many areas had been suggested by the Child Protection Board and asked for a report on its status.

Walsh asked if the city has a trained child molestation squad much like those that now exist for narcotics and vice. He said that 2,000 of the 3,000 children molested each year are under the age of 14.

Science Fair Sheds Light On Questions

Ever wonder what you don't see while you're looking?

Does music affect the ability of rats to find food in a maze?

Should these questions — and 422 others — stir your imagination, you'll find the answers at the Greater San Diego Science Fair which opens in the Federal Building at Balboa Park Thursday, March 28.

This year a total of 488 junior and senior high school students will participate in the fair. It's the largest fair in the 14 year history of the event. A total of 424 projects are entered. Group exhibits account for the number of students being greater than the number of exhibits.

Again, Naval Electronics Laboratory Center, San Diego, will cooperate with education and industry to provide a full program to honor those students who demonstrate interest and knowledge in mathematics and science.

Rod McKuen Makes First Showing Here

Rod McKuen, a 34-year old pop composer, will make his first local appearance at San Diego State this Saturday.

McKuen will sing his own original songs in a performance called "The Love Movement" at 8 p.m. in Peterson Gymnasium under the sponsorship of the Associated Students.

The songwriter is now finishing "Lonesome Cities," his third book of poetry, the score for the "Travels With Charley" TV special, eight songs for "Joanna," a 20th Century Fox film, a movie screenplay based on his poetry book, "Stanyan Street and Other Sorrows," and still another album of original material for singer Glen Yarbrough.

Yarbrough became the major outlet for McKuen's music and eventually Peggy Lee, Andy Williams, Chad and Jeremy, and Dusty Springfield were to have hits with McKuen's writings. One tune, "The World I Used To Know," has been recorded by 89 artists and was a big hit for Jimmie Rodgers in 1967. In 1967 McKuen sold 150,000 record albums. His book of free verse "Stanyan Street and Other Sorrows," has sold more than 250,000 copies. "Stanyan" and the companion volume "Listen to the Warm" are each selling 5,000 to 6,000 copies per week.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the college bookstore. General admission, $2.50; San Diego State faculty, staff, alumni, and students from other schools, $2; San Diego State Students, $1.50.

Plan now, pay later. For information on your vacation destination look for travel books at the San Diego Public Library.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

By
DOCTOR JOHN J. FLYNN
Doctor of Chiropractic

Q— Please explain just what Chiropractic is or does. You've got my curiosity aroused. Can you make it simple?

A— Chiropractic is simple in principle. Your main nerve trunk lines emit through tiny vertebral openings along your spinal column and then spread out through your entire body through a complex nerve network. Chiropractic keeps these main nerves functioning normally by eliminating any pressure or other interference that might pinch off their transmission of nerve energy. Nerve interference is generally caused by a spinal misalignment. Vertebral segments become displaced through injury or just poor posture and press or pinch on the nerve restricting its vital flow of nerve energy. It is this nerve energy that controls all of your body's functions. In other words, Chiropractic keeps these main nerve trunk lines or channels clear of obstruction so that your own built-in natural resistance can overcome health problems.

QUICK IMPROVEMENT
Q— If I become a Chiropractic patient, how soon can I begin to feel better?
A— Many patients receiving Chiropractic adjustments begin feeling better in days. In simple cases of lower back pain caused by spinal misalignments, patients have felt better immediately following an adjustment. But, in cases where spinal misalignments have been neglected or ignored over the years, it takes longer. The Chiropractic adjustment can readily restore the misaligned vertebra, but then nature must restore or revive the worn-out cells and tissues that have been damaged. Nature, as we all know, has its own time table for healing, repairing, and restoring health.

BLINDING HEADACHES
Q— My wife has these blinding headaches. She's very busy with club activities and a good-sized family, too. I think it's tension from trying to do too much, but could it be a spinal problem?

A— It could be both. Tension can cause headaches, but I'd have an x-ray taken to determine if one of the nerves that supply the scalp has become pinched and is causing her problem. This is very common. A displaced spinal segment can irritate a nerve supplying the scalp and cause little or no pain at the point of irritation and yet be directly responsible for blinding headaches. Just call the office and arrange for an x-ray appointment.

Doctor Flynn welcomes your letters on health problems. Mail your questions to his office at 6943 Linda Vista Road or telephone for an appointment to discuss your problem directly with him. Phone 278-2902.

High Flying Subject Taught In High School

An experimental course in aeronautical science for high school students, first of its kind south of the Los Angeles area, has enrolled 16 students for the second semester at St. Augustine High School, 3266 Nutmeg St. The non-credit course, open to boys 16 years and over, meets four hours a week. Mr. William R. Farrell, a 1963 graduate of Saint Augustine and himself a licensed pilot, is the instructor. After a year of planning and in cooperation with the Federal Aviation Administration, the course was inaugurated in February, and is one of approximately 200 such courses offered throughout the United States.

According to Mr. Jerry Seymour, supervisor of the FAA Flight Service station at Lindbergh Field, San Diego, the St. Augustine program is unique in that it offers readily available laboratory facilities for the immediate application of classroom learning in the form of a four-seater Cessna Skylane.

The Cessna, based at Montgomery Field, was given to the Order of St. Augustine, the teaching priests who conduct St. Augustine High, for use in their educational and parish work. For two years it has been used every weekend to fly priests to Catholic parishes in the crowded resort areas of Palm Springs and Big Bear for Sunday services. The Rev. Richard K. Smith, O.S.A., physics instructor at St. Augustine and a licensed pilot with commercial rating, is assisting with the aeronautics instruction.

Entry blanks are available at the office of the La Jolla Civic Orchestra Association, 846 Prospect Street, La Jolla.

Clairemonter Wins Award From Bank

Joan Rathswohl of 3781 Mt. Acadia and a student at Academy of Our Lady of Peace, was the recipient of an awards certificate this week in the 1968 Bank of America Achievement Awards Program.

Miss Rathswohl received her certificate in the first round of the competition in the specific fields category in mathematics.

She will enter zone competitions next month and if a winner there, will go on to the finals to be held in May. Cash awards to students in Southern California this year will total $58,400. Winners will take home checks from $25 to $1,000.

Donald White Will Speak To Zero-Defectors

Donald D. White, senior consultant of Van de Water Associates, Inc., Los Angeles, will speak to the San Diego Section of the American Society for Quality Control at 6:30 p.m. Monday, April 8 in the Bronze Room, La Mesa.

White's topic will be "Communications and Meaning for Quality Performance."

White has installed successful Manager Goals and Results Programs in large and medium-sized defense and non-defense establishments and has instructed hundreds of managers of client firms in managerial planning, organizing, leading, staffing and controlling practices.

The General Dynamics Convair Division is the sponsoring company for the meeting. L. I. Medlock, Director of Reliability Control for Convair, will moderate.

The meeting is open to the public. Dinner tickets can be obtained from the booster chairman, R. E. (Dick) Lowe, 277-8900, Ext. 1327.

Confusion In Tongues Explained

"The Gift of Tongues" is the one gift of the Holy Spirit of God that has brought a great deal of confusion to the minds of Christian people down through the centuries. It has divided believers into separate camps.

It was the only gift that Apostle Paul had to correct the Corinthian Church about in the first Christian century.

Pastor Henry Dalke of the Grace Brethren Church, 3455 Atlas St. will speak upon the above mentioned problems as he brings an expositional message of I Corinthians, Chapter 14, this morning at the eleven o'clock worship service.

The Sanctuary choir will sing Lawrence Curry's song, "Were You There?" under the direction of organist David Dalke.

David is perhaps one of the youngest church organists in the city. He is now fifteen years of age, but has been the organist of the church since he was only ten years of age. He is studying organ with concert organist Mr. James Hansen.

The evening services include the youth fellowship at 6 o'clock under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Becker. Mr. Becker is an electronics engineer, and has recently returned to San Diego from Hawaii where he was employed for a number of years.

The Sunday night service of praise is at 7 p.m. with gospel music. Pastor Dalke's message will be from the Book of Revelation, chapter three. "The Church of Brotherly Love" is the topic.

"It's just a quick shower."

Isaiah Text Used In Lutheran Sermon

"Every one who thirsts to the waters; and he who has no money, come, buy and eat!"

These words begin the text from Isaiah 55:1-7 which is the basis for the sermon, "The Best for Nothing!" to be given by Charles R. Christian, pastor of Clairemont Lutheran Church, on the fourth Sunday in Lent.

There will be child care at all morning services, 8, 9 and 10:30 a.m. Evening Vespers will begin at 7 p.m.

Lenten Vespers, Wednesday evenings at 7:30 p.m., will continue with the theme, "The Road to the Cross." The message next Wednesday will be concerned with "Jesus Before the High Priest."

Colored slides picturing these events in Christ's life, leading up to His Crucifixion and Easter, make these services of particular interest to the children.

The Anglers will meet

"It's the rest period between snow shoveling and lawn mowing."

Landlords Conduct Meeting

The Apartment and Rental Owners Association will hold a dinner meeting at the cafeteria of the First National Bank on Thursday evening, March 28.

In his talk on "Finding Financing in 68" he will explain possibilities of borrowing from life insurance companies, savings and loan associations, banks, and pension funds. Mr. Lee will also give a profile of the mortgage investor and discuss financing for purchase, when and how to refinance, and proper leverage.

AROA program chairman G. Wesley Harker says the meeting is open to interested non-members, but reservations must be called to 239-9211 by noon the 26th.

Scheidle Will Try To Unhorse Supervisor

City Councilman Harry Scheidle has announced that he will challenge County Supervisor Robert Dent in the June 4 election in the Third Supervisorial District.

Scheidle 45, has represented the Third District for seven years.

He said he is campaigning against Dent because the county must be put in motion by the same aggressive, bold and imaginative leadership responsible for development of today's Mission Bay Park, a city owned transit system, San Diego Transit, Metropolitan sewer systems, the Community Concourse, the Salk Institute, the University of California and the new Stadium.

Dent, 67, is seeking his fourth four-year term. The district takes in the city of San Diego east from Park Boulevard including North Park, East San Diego, Allied Gardens, the College, area Lemon Grove, Spring Valley and parts of Southeast San Diego.

Scheidle, pointing to the dynamic growth of San Diego, during his seven years on the council, said the projects and programs he led were accomplished while lowering the city tax rate.

For the fourth year the San Diego Humane Society will present their annual "Easter Basket off Puppets and Animals." This year the one day show will be held in the Fiesta Room of the May Company, in Mission Valley Center. The show will be held on April 8 with performances at 11 a.m., 1, 2:30, and 4 p.m.

San Diego's own Puppet Lady, Marie Hitchcock, will present her famous puppets by courtesy of Sea World where she appears throughout the year.

With Marie Hitchcock will be the only non-human member of the Junior Humane Society, Prince Neptune, a scarlet macaw, three feet long from stem to stern. Prince Neptune, now a Junior Humane Officer, complete with badge, has been the only animal member of the organization for the past two years.

Your children, in their formative years, need to:
... LEARN RESPONSIBILITY
... LEARN TO USE INITIATIVE IN THIS WORLD OF COMPETITION.
... LEARN TO MEET PEOPLE
... LEARN THE VALUE OF A DOLLAR

The Sentinel needs young businessmen from 10 to 12½ years of age, to bring this community paper to you and your neighbors.

From this first business experience these youngsters learn invaluable lessons that help them in the future.

We of the Sentinel, work closely with these youngsters and you, their parents. We too are parents, therefore we make sure that the problems faced by these youngsters are not beyond their abilities, particularly with our help and your help.

If you have a youngster in this age bracket, call the circulation department of this paper, BR 4-3212, and let us discuss our carrier program with you and your youngster.

Occidental Singers Appear In La Jolla

Acclaimed by critics for the technical perfection and musical depth of their presentations, the Occidental College Glee Clubs, directed by Howard Swan, will appear in concert in La Jolla today at 4 p.m. in the Sanctuary of La Jolla Presbyterian Church 7715 Draper Ave.

Now in their 39th concert season, the Glee Clubs enjoy a reputation for excellence in music circles across the nation. Noted choral conductor Robert Shaw has called the Occidental College Glee Clubs "one of the finest collegiate choral ensembles in America." Harry Robert Wilson, professor of Choral Music at Columbia University, has stated that "they have the finest tone of any glee club I have heard in the West." The music critic for the Greynier Anzeiger (Munster, Germany) termed them "the best amateur choir in the world."

The Glee Clubs' itinerary over the past quarter century has taken them to Washington, Oregon, Utah, Colorado, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, and throughout California. The dedicated members of the Clubs are chosen annually from approximately 200 students auditioning for membership. Preparation for the spring concert season begins with regular rehearsals during the Fall term, and continues on during Christmas vacation, when the choir members return to the college to rehearse for a full week before classes begin again.

During the summer months of 1965, the Glee Clubs made their first European Tour and performed in seven countries. They recorded broadcasts for the French and German national radio stations which were released from Paris and Frankfurt. Other programs were sung in Kloster, Milano, Florence, Vienna, Venice, Salzburg, Muenster, and Bruges.

Pooh Puppet Performs

Once again the Balboa Park Puppet Theater will become the magic land of Christopher Robin and his constant companion Winnie-the-Pooh as the Puppets Please group mounts a return engagement of the play that broke attendance records last year.

"Winnie-the-Pooh," based on the timeless children's books of A. A. Milne, will be presented three times each day, Monday through Friday, April 8th through the 12th. Performances will begin at 11 a.m., 12 noon, and 1 p.m. Admission for all ages will be 25 cents at the door.

The two stories featured are those concerned with Pooh's attempt to steal honey from the bees by means of a balloon flight, and the birthday celebration for the old donkey, Eeyore.

In this production the marionettes move about the entire stage of the Puppet Theater in full view of the audience. In the cast of furry creatures are Tigger, Piglet, Eeyore, Winnie-the-Pooh, and all of the other lovable characters.

All of the puppets were created by Shirley McManus, head of Puppets Please and one of Southern California's leading puppeteers. In their last appearance in Balboa Park the marionettes played to thousands of area youngsters and their delighted parents. It is because of many requests that "Winnie-the-Pooh" is being presented again during Easter Vacation, Monday through Friday, April 8 through the 12th. The Balboa Park Puppet Theater is located in the Palisades Area.

Reunion Scheduled At School

Ask The Principal

DR. NORMAN E. WOLLITZ Couldn't we improve our elementary schools by setting up a departmentalized program?

Several school districts have tried a departmentalized elementary program. In San Diego our most frequent method of organizing the elementary school is the self-contained classroom where in one teacher teaches the same class for the entire day.

The major value of this kind of program is that teachers are able to give more attention to individual children. They have a chance to know their strengths and weaknesses and provide better all-around guidance for a child.

We recognize that this means that children may not have an opportunity to associate with the strongest science teacher or the most capable music teacher under this arrangement.

In practice the self-contained classroom concept need not be as rigid as might be expected. That is, teachers can trade classes, classes can frequently get together for music, science, or physical education activities.

Team teaching in the elementary schools is an attempt to capitalize on the strengths of all teachers. Under this arrangement a teacher still has one classroom but may pair with another teacher so that they are each teaching in a field they have something special to offer.

Generally there is a good deal of opposition to the idea of establishing elementary schools wherein children will have four, five, or six teachers a day and each teacher would meet with 150 to 200 children each day.

ing tried in San Diego to determine whether different arrangements can make a contribution to the educational program of children.

Another arrangement that has found some favor is the so-called multi-age or multi-level organization. Under this program children from different ages and grades are assigned to the same classroom.

It is built on the concept that since all children are different if they are in the same grade or in the same age bracket, a multi-age class can capitalize on the special talents of children; that is, for certain periods in the day the more capable children in a certain field can assist others who are having difficulty. In some ways this might resemble the best kind of one room school education.

Another new dimension in school organization is the use of so-called paraprofessionals.

Volunteer or paid assistants working with a classroom teacher can make a significant contribution to the instructional program. We are trying this program in some San Diego schools.

Across the nation school districts have found this to make a real contribution. I believe it can be said that in San Diego we are actively seeking to find new and more effective ways of organizing the elementary school in order to accomplish the educational goals established by the Board of Education.

Teachers are actively involved in establishing and evaluating these pilot studies. Parents are encouraged to talk with their school principals about ways being tried in their local school to improve the instructional program as well as pilot studies that are going on in other schools.

Middle income tourists account for 45 percent of U. S. travelers to Europe, according to the American Society of Travel Agents.

PRINCIPAL CHARACTERS—Had Point Loma centerfielder Joe Radovich (7) known what was to happen later, he might have gone out of his way to be unkind toward Mission Bay shortstop Doug Fisher, who completes a first inning double play. Radovich was called in to do some relief pitching in the seventh inning and Fisher ripped the game winning single off him. Mission Bay won the league opener, 2-1. ## CHIEFS DEBUT TUESDAY

Bucs, Komets Clash For Early WL Lead

By LARRY LITTLEFIELD

Two teams that figure to end in the middle of the pack battle for an early Western League baseball lead Tuesday while favored Clairemont makes its debut at La Jolla.

The Chieftains, winners of their first seven non-league games, will have to catch either Kearny or Mission Bay. Both got off to winning starts Friday and will meet Tuesday on the Buccaneer diamond.

In one other league game Tuesday, Point Loma and University will meet at Robb Field, Ocean Beach. All games are at 3 p.m.

The Pointers and Dons also meet in track this week with a 2:45 p.m. battle slated for Wednesday. Friday meets match Kearny and Clairemont, both undefeated, at Kearny and send Mission Bay (0-3) to Madison (1-1).

Point Loma discovered Friday that one run isn't going to hold up in many Western League games this season as Mission Bay scored two in the bottom of the seventh to win, 2-1, in a thriller.

Madison, meanwhile, nipped University, 2-1, in a pitcher's duel between Alan Hunt of the Hawks and Uni's Greg Tomzyk, who both tossed five-hitters.

Tuesday's mound duels will probably send Tomzyk against Point Loma's John Balaz; Bay's Greg Pitcher Kearny's Tim Collins and

The Pointers haven't scored more than once in any of their first six games. It looked as if Larry Luxenburg's pitching and solo homer in the fifth inning would stand up until Ron Dougall led off the final Mission Bay inning with a triple.

Casey Hamlin's line drive single tied it at 1-1 and Luxenburg was replaced by Joe Radovich. Wayne Myron's bunt single and Ron Collins' infield out advanced runners to second and third and with two out junior shortstop Doug Fisher hit a hard grounder to deep short that scored Hamlin with the winning run.

Kearny got over the shock of five La Jolla first inning runs and retaliated with 16 on 14 hits to win, 16-8, in a marathon.

Madison, meanwhile, nipped University, 2-1, in a pitcher's duel between Alan Hunt of the Hawks and Uni's Greg Tomzyk, who both tossed five-hitters.

Surf Scene

By DOUG SMITH

UPCOMING CONTESTS—Applications are available at all surfboard shops for the upcoming third annual Eastern Surf Contest April 6-7 in Ocean Beach. This contest is open to ALL surfers.

April 6-7 is also the date for a surfing meet in Santa Cruz for class 3A and 4A rating points.

An intra club contest between San Diego State and the University of Southern California is on tap today in Ocean Beach. Meanwhile, Las Olas and Newport Beach surf clubs will battle today at San Miguel, South of the border, senior.

RECENT MEETS—There were no contests held last weekend.

SPECIAL EVENTS—Santa Cruz will hold a "Special Surf Contest" at Rivermouth and/or Steamer Lane, April 20-21, with events to include—and get this—bodysurfing, bellyboarding, . . . surfing, . . . and kayak. Further information on this colorful and unusual meet may be obtained by calling 224-2439.

SURFING ISSUES—Further pressure is being put on all surfers at Archer Street due to the lack of cooperation by a minority of people who refuse to use the Tourmaline Canyon Surf Park. The curbing at Archer and Linda Way has been painted red and all cars parked in those red zones will be ticketed.

SURFING CONDITIONS—A high of 5.6 will come today at 6:12 a.m. with a low of minus 0.9 coming at 1 p.m. Weak swimmers and surfers are cautioned of strong rips and holes left by previous large surf.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK, Dave DeVore—A law student at University of San Diego, Dave has been surfing for eight years and feels the sport is especially good for young people because of its physical aspects and because it develops the individual since it is an individual sport.

Dave said that through competition of surf clubs and the Western Surfing Association, he feels surfers are given the chance to experience competition and exercise good sportsmanship. These positive aspects, Dave feels are giving surfing a better image.

To keep up with the tremendous growth of surfing, Dave would like to see the city improve Sunset Cliffs. He said that surfers have been using that area for many years but nothing has been done to facilitate access to the ocean. According to Dave, literally hundreds of surfers use the cliffs area and are scaling dangerous sheer cliffs to get to the water.

Del Mar Summer Season To Run 18 Stake Races

Stakes stars will compete for $332,500 in 18 added money features at the 29th summer season of the Del Mar Turf Club, opening July 24, it was announced today by Donald B. Smith, president and general manager.

All of the traditional features at the seaside course are down for renewal during the 42-day span. Included are eight stakes for older horses, four for 3-year-olds and six for the 2-year-old division. To give the program proper balance, six events are exclusively for fillies and mares. Four of the 18 specials are to be run over Del Mar's highly-popular infield turf course.

Richest race of the meeting again will be the prestige-laden Del Mar Futurity, slated for closing day, Sept. 11. It is expected to gross approximately $100,000. Last year's victor, Frank McMahon's Baffle, earned $67,050 out of a gross $99,300 in defeating Broad Shadows and Poleax.

The Del Mar Debutante, filly counterpart of the Futurity, is set for Aug. 31 and should hit the $60,000 figure for its renewal. Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Shapiro's Fast Dish was winner in 1967, defeating Time to Leave and Esquimau Pie.

The complete 1968 stakes schedule follows:

July 29—$15,000 Oceanside Handicap, 3-year-olds, 6 fur.

July 31—$10,000 Junior Miss Stakes, 2-year-old fillies, 6 fur.

Foe For Norton Found, Fights On For Tuesday

Matchmaker Mickey Davies finally found an opponent for unbeaten Ken Norton of San Diego, so a colorful pro boxing card is promised Tuesday night at the Community Concourse.

Featherweight Roy DeFilippis, also undefeated, and Rodrigo Contreras will square off in the main event and Norton, a well built 200-pounder backed by four San Diego businessmen, will battle Jim Gilmore of Las Vegas.

Until Davies signed Gilmore, whose two wins in four fights were both by knockouts, it seemed area heavyweights were trying to avoid Norton. Harold Dutra, considered the top heavyweight in Northern California, didn't avoid Norton and ended up floored in the first round and knocked out in the third.

Tickets for the bouts Tuesday are on sale at the Community Concourse and all Metro Agencies and Highlander stores.
